YOU ARE NOT BEHIND IN LIFE

Choose to grow deeper in your faith, capacity and understanding.

They will still bear fruit in old age,
they will stay fresh and green.
Psalm 92:14

Dear ,

As we approach the end of the financial year, we've been reflecting on the people behind the classrooms, assignments, and graduations.

This year, we've watched students deepen their faith, build confidence, and step into new opportunities while balancing work, family, church, and ministry life.

Every student's path looks different, but each story reminds us that God continues to work through every season of life.

At ACCS, we believe theological and ministry training should be accessible and supportive. That's why our flexible learning options allow students to study online and at their own pace, with support from lecturers who genuinely know and care for them.

We're also thankful for the churches, supporters, and partners who work with us to encourage and invest in students as they prepare for ministry, leadership, counselling, and service opportunities.

Are you considering further study?

You may be wondering:

- Is it too late for me to study?
- Can I realistically balance study with work or family life?

- What if I'm not confident academically?
- How would I afford it?

The truth is, many ACCS students started with the same questions.

With flexible study options, a caring learning environment, and FEE-HELP support available for eligible students, you may not need to pay upfront, making study more possible than you think.

Whether you want to grow in your understanding of the Bible, strengthen your ministry skills, or prepare for future leadership opportunities, ACCS is here to support you.

Blessings,

Study Through Every Season of Life

One of our favourite graduation moments this year was seeing a graduate celebrating with her daughter beside her.

It was a beautiful reminder that there is no “perfect” season to begin learning and growing. At CCS, many students are balancing family, ministry, work, and service while they study. Some are returning to education after many years. Others never imagined they would have the confidence or opportunity to study at all.

That's why flexible online learning and personalised support matter so much to our community. Our lecturers genuinely know their students and support them academically, personally, and spiritually throughout their studies

What's Holding You Back?

One of the most common things we hear from prospective students is:

“I don’t know if study is realistic for me.”

For some, it's finances.

For others, it's time, confidence, or simply wondering if they're “too old” to begin again.

The reality is that many ACCS students started with those same concerns.

With flexible online study, supportive staff, and FEE-HELP available for eligible students, study may be more possible than you think.

Whether you want to strengthen your ministry skills, deepen your understanding of Scripture, or prepare for leadership opportunities, ACCS is here to support your journey.

Consider supporting the next generation!

As the end of the financial year approaches, we're incredibly thankful for the churches, donors, and community members who continue investing into future Christian leaders through ACCS.

Every act of support helps students access training, grow in their calling, and continue serving their communities with wisdom, compassion, and biblical foundations.

Your support helps shape future pastors, chaplains, counsellors, ministry leaders, and faithful servants who will continue impacting lives for years to come.

Thank you for being part of the ACCS community and helping students continue their journey.

If you have the capacity to sponsor a student, please email info@ccs.edu.au. Your support could make study possible for someone preparing to serve their church and community.
